

Chapter Notes for Chapter 15: Home Again

The Calcutta book by Geoffrey Moorhouse (Penguin, 1983) is a wonderful introduction to India and Indian ways as well as a good guide to the city. The Ambassador car has been joined by a variety of modern vehicles on Indian roads following a decision by the government the same year we were there to allow foreign carmakers to set up factories in India. But the Hindustan Motors Ambassador is still made and widely purchased because of its simplicity and robustness.

References:

Moorhouse, Geoffrey. Calcutta: the City Revealed. London: Penguin, 1983.